Investigación y extensión acerca de latinos y nuevas comunidades

Cambio de Colores (Change of Colors) is an annual conference that, since 2002, brings together researchers, practitioners, decision makers, and community members to disseminate and exchange research and best practices leading to the sustainable integration of immigrants in rural and urban areas of the Heartland and other new destination regions. Educators, health care providers, entrepreneurs, academics and community leaders exchange views and learn from each other. Continuing Education Units (CEUs) are available.
